17:17:23 From Ricardo Salinas to Everyone:

Hey Everyone! I am an academic researcher transitioning to UXR! I am entering the final year of my master's psychology program, and I'd love to keep in touch with you all! Here is my Linkedin: https://www.linkedin.com/in/ricardo99salinas/

17:17:36 From Anthony Z - UXRS to Everyone:

Post your questions for Amanda in the chat

17:19:19 From Mike Christoff to Everyone:

will these documents or version of these documents be available?

17:19:35 From Julia DeBari to Everyone:

I have a question for Amanda. I am a little confused as I know there was a big UX Research team in San Francisco for Lyft. Why was the NYC office so ignorant of UX Research? And couldn't SF UX Researchers do some of the work?

17:19:50 From Aaron Esau to Everyone:

So cool! We've had some customers that want to do moderated because they hear it sounds good, but they are PM's with 0 experience conducting moderated.

17:20:04 From Eric Oosenbrug to Everyone:

+! Julia's question

17:20:24 From Chris Tang to Everyone:

Out of curiosity, where did cohorts display their moderator badge?

17:20:44 From Yulia Pekelny to Everyone:

   Hi Everyone, I am Product Designer from California and I am happy to connect! Welcome to connect https://www.linkedin.com/in/pekelnaia/

17:20:53 From Brea Talsness to Everyone:

   How did you ensure consistency (quality of questions asked/analysis/etc.) across the different teams?

17:21:09 From Sara Restrepo to Everyone:

   For Amanda, How did you you chose who'll be part of the training? specially at the beginning

17:22:14 From Lena Liberman to Everyone:

   For Amanda - In your experience what are the key differences when conducting UX research for B2B vs B2C?

17:22:30 From Manuel Snr to Everyone:

   Hi Everyone, I'm a product designer from Nigeria and I'm happy to connect!! https://www.linkedin.com/in/emmanuel-odoemelam/

17:23:06 From Aaron Esau to Everyone:

   Speed dating for UX Research!

17:23:50 From Chris Tang to Everyone:

   Will slides be shared with attendees?

17:23:58 From Azadeh Forghani to Everyone:

   3.5 hours for each participant?

17:24:36 From Maureen Barrientos to Everyone:

   q for Amanda: If the product team establishes objectives, how do you follow up to reduce bias in the research scope/questions?

17:24:39 From Dongchen Hou to Everyone:

   democratizing research!

17:24:49 From elmar reyes to Everyone:

   As you're rotating between participants, how do you prevent or work with participant fatigue and cognitive overload? It sounds like a long time for a participant

17:25:06 From Awosise Favour to Everyone:

   Hi everyone👋 I am Favour, a UX/UI Designer from Nigeria. I am open to connect with everyone: https://www.linkedin.com/in/favour-oyindamola-awosise-b4ba201a5

17:25:07 From Fayemi David to Everyone:

   +1 Elmars question

17:25:12 From Tina Oko to Everyone:

   For Amanda: Are you all using a Research Repository to keep track of all of these individual projects and insights?

17:25:28 From Keri Belcher to Everyone:

   Question for amanda: Maybe it was mentioned, but how did you guys go about recruiting and picking those representative customers?

17:25:51 From Bobby Bishop to Everyone:

   Question: do people "go rogue" and just ignore what you taught them?

17:26:05 From Keri Belcher to Everyone:

   😂

17:26:14 From Sara Restrepo to Everyone:

   For Amanda. How do you measure the impact to chose the projects? (Company OKR, area KPI, etc)

17:26:19 From Maggie McMahon to Everyone:

   Do UX, Product, and Tech sit within the same org and work hand in hand on a regular basis? Or did you run into any challenges with getting tech involved in UXR due to org structure?

17:26:27 From ANA PAULA GARCIA Y COLOME to Everyone:

   For Amanda: how do you empower people to do research, some of them might think it's not their "job" or part of their activities :/

17:26:43 From Nicole Johnson to Everyone:

   Hi Everyone, I am looking to transition into UX Research from Project management from California and I am happy to connect! https://www.linkedin.com/in/nicolejohnson6/

17:26:47 From Sara Restrepo to Everyone:

   For Amanda, how do you ensure the quality of the research in the live session?

17:26:51 From Ewelina Szczepaniak to Everyone:

 thank you Amanda

17:26:54 From Priscilla K to Everyone:

 Q: How do you ensure the quality of the findings/insights from the team members?

17:26:56 From Melissa De Yoe to Everyone:

 does anyone recommend any courses or trainings for Google Analytics?

17:26:57 From Sarah Kirkmeyer to Everyone:

 How did you leverage the learnings on future projects?

17:26:57 From Taisa Brosler to Everyone:

 Amazing! Thanks!

17:26:59 From Lisa McClain to Everyone:

 Thank you Amanda!

17:27:01 From Koyel Ranu to Everyone:

 For Amanda: How did you arrive at the magic number 6 for general population customers?

17:27:02 From NDTC Berta to Everyone:

 Question for Amanda: How would you define rapid research in terms of timeline? Is there a standard for the amount of time it takes for a study to be considered a rapid research?

17:27:02 From Emily Wragg to Everyone:

 LOVED that Amanda, so good!

17:27:03 From Mia to Everyone:

 Thank you Amanda :)

17:27:03 From elmar reyes to Everyone:

 👏

17:27:04 From Sarah Kirkmeyer to Everyone:

 love it!!!

17:27:04 From Julieta Treviño to Everyone:

 Thank you Amanda!

17:27:04 From Bobby Bishop to Everyone:

 rapid presentation

17:27:07 From Julia Workman to Everyone:

 So informative and entertaining!

17:27:09 From Lisa Nagamine to Everyone:

 👏 awesome!

17:27:11 From Autumn Hood autumn.hood@unt.edu to Everyone:

 That was great Amanda!!

17:27:13 From Pavithra Arvind to Everyone:

 👏

17:27:16 From Karen Hu to Everyone:

 Thank you Amanda!!!

17:27:22 From Bethany Monk to Everyone:

 That was fantastic. Thank you Amanda!👏

17:27:23 From Melissa Schmitz to Everyone:

 So is the rapid research 6 different teams or 6 different team members?

17:27:23 From Anna Heermann to Everyone:

 I love the impact that you made, Amanda! Kudos to you! 👏

17:27:24 From Abbas Rianat to Everyone:

 👏🟫👏👏🟫

17:27:25 From George Jones to Everyone:

17:27:26 From Anna Wu to Everyone:

 This was incredibly insightful! 3 full time researchers for rapid research. That's amazing, congrats! Thanks, Amanda!

17:27:27 From Israel Coleman to Everyone:

Thanks Amanda!

17:27:31 From Mary Pedigo (she/her/hers) to Everyone:

This was so timely for me and my team--we are working on becoming coaches to product owners and others.

17:27:38 From Malia Canann to Everyone:

If research is so democratized, how do continue to show your value as a Researcher at your organization?

17:27:39 From Mary's A50 to Everyone:

what tools did you use or was it in person research?

17:27:42 From Linda to Everyone:

@Amanda: This is the first time I listened to the positive side of democratizing research, how would you get people on board?

17:27:58 From Ebony Rae' to Everyone:

Many things clicked! Thanks Amanda!

17:28:00 From Linda Mitman to Everyone:

Question for Amanda: Do you review research questions for bias?

17:28:21 From Cheenu Chari to Everyone:

Were there any challenges you faced when educating your team members and stakeholders about UX Research?

17:28:26 From Amy Calhoun to Everyone:

Could you share again which research methods work best for rapid research and also which aren't recommended?

17:28:49 From Danielle Siano to Everyone:

Amanda, wondering if you have might see Indi Young's listening sessions as a viable option for your rapid research process instead of the interview framework?

17:28:58 From Maggie T. to Everyone:

What are the limitations of rapid research? I have heard critiques about Lean UX from several experienced professionals over the past few months.

17:29:00 From Bobby Bishop to Everyone:

Question: How are juniors supposed to get started if the work that they would be doing is being done by other people?

17:29:00 From MICHAEL SELZ to Everyone:

How do you decide, triaging what should be rapid vs. what should be foundational?

17:29:08 From Theora Kvitka to Everyone:

How do you budget your time between supporting the rapid research teams vs. leading that foundational research? (especially before you are expanding the team)

17:29:16 From Danielle Siano to Everyone:

*rather a viable substitute

17:29:52 From Sara Restrepo to Everyone:

Each team can choose to do other types of methodologies, different from an interview? i.e. usability tests?

17:29:55 From Priscilla K to Everyone:

Q: Do the team members take down verbatims during the interviews? From my experience some product people are always capturing summaries/interpretations and find taking down verbatims very impossible to do (and they don't have the time to review the recording)—how are teams that you worked with able to capture what they learned from an interview?

17:30:08 From Danielle Siano to Everyone:

how do you synthesize or analyze data at the end of the rapid research session lead by new interviewers?

17:30:08 From Meenakshi Nagarajan to Everyone:

+1 to Theora Kvitka

17:30:31 From Abbas Rianat to Everyone:

Question for Amanda : Do you share your research plan with the team for contributions?

17:30:38 From Malia Canann to Everyone:

Have you encountered colleagues who utilized this rapid research process incorrectly, and if so, how did you course correct?

17:30:45 From Keri Belcher to Everyone:

Another question - How do you keep track of/ update those insights from the research sessions?

17:30:48 From Rosa Carbajal to Everyone:

 +1 Danielle - how do you synthesize or analyze data at the end of the rapid research session lead by new interviewers?

17:31:28 From Christian Knebel to Everyone:

 +1 - how do you synthesize or analyze data at the end of the rapid research session lead by new interviewers?

17:32:01 From Sara Restrepo to Everyone:

 How many time do you run the program in a Q?

17:32:16 From Michelle to Everyone:

 +1 Michael Selz: How do you decide, triaging what should be rapid vs. what should be foundational?

17:33:04 From Priscilla K to Everyone:

 Q: How do teams share findings within the org? Is there a findings repository, etc?

17:33:07 From Nina Conrad to Everyone:

 Does Lyft have a research repository, and if so, how often do insights from rapid research end up recorded there?

17:33:37 From MICHAEL SELZ to Everyone:

 Do you record the sessions so your teams can share clips with their own stakeholders?

17:33:38 From Yelim Kim to Everyone:

 Q: I guess it depends on projects, but if there exists a rough timeline, how long does it take to go through the whole process?

17:33:38 From CD to Everyone:

 Is it possible to see an intake form used for RR?

17:33:49 From Azadeh Forghani to Everyone:

 How do you convince a team if their project is not good for rapid test? To prevent disappointment?

17:33:50 From Bobbi Martin to Everyone:

 Do we get an example/sample of the intake form?

17:33:54 From Sally Clements to Everyone:

 +1 to Nina question about repository.

17:33:56 From Autumn Hood autumn.hood@unt.edu to Everyone:

 +1 to Nina's question above about the research repository ^

17:34:02 From Awosise Favour to Everyone:

 Hi everyone👋 I am Favour, a UX/UI Designer from Nigeria. I am open to connect with everyone: https://www.linkedin.com/in/favour-oyindamola-awosise-b4ba201a5

17:34:21 From Marc Majers to Everyone:

 Question for Amanda: In relation to Julia DeBari's comment, this method seems related to the UX maturity level of an organization. You had mentioned the research team has grown and they are now running rapid research sessions. How do you think the rapid research method has impacted the overall growth of the UX Research Team?

17:34:50 From Mark Singer to Everyone:

 Q: How can rapid research help a design team of one?

17:34:54 From Uti K to Everyone:

 To Amanda: Can you discuss the methodology of a specific rapid research use case and outcomes?

17:34:58 From Kyle Grant to Everyone:

 There is a lot of nuance to task creation that takes quite a bit of experience to master!

17:35:13 From Nate Osei to Everyone:

 In short you mentored them? Is that accurate to say?

17:35:52 From Christian Knebel to Everyone:

 +1 - Please expand on methods used :)

17:36:08 From Roxana Barbu to Everyone:

 Hi everyone,

 Amanda, thank you so much for such an insightful and emergent practice! And Jen, yet another mazing event (ps - loved your first question; you asked as I was typing). I have to jump out for an interview with … Korea … but so happy to see familiar names in the audience. If anyone wants to continue the conversation, I am currently implementing a rapid research cycle :) (also - like always happy to chat behaviour change) https://www.linkedin.com/in/roxanamariabarbu/

17:36:19 From Christian Knebel to Everyone:

 Or methods you trust the larger team to execute

17:36:43 From Beth Olarsch to Everyone:

Another plug to ask about your research repository - what tool(s) do you use/recommend?

17:36:44 From Jaq King to Everyone:

Wow wow, such a wonderful presentation. Question for Amanda: to what extend does the moderator training include wider education about UX Research practices? Is the moderator training the ONLY training that your RR partners move through, or can you detail what the rest of the RR onboarding process looks like?

17:37:01 From Kyle Grant to Everyone:

Perhaps treejack would work well

17:37:14 From Aylin Selcukoglu to Everyone:

Have you trained partners in unmoderated research or is this always moderated?

17:37:23 From Caleen Alexanderson to Everyone:

Agree with Marc regarding UX maturity. We implemented Research Ops, wrote a UX Research Playbook of different methods with guides on which method to use for the type of learnings Designers need. It's worked really well and we've gotten a ton more research done with direct learning by the designers which has been a huge bonus for them to hear feedback directly. We do affinity mapping in an online tool where we keep for data referral.

17:37:24 From Nichole Chaney to Everyone:

What if it's possible to do the foundational research and discovery for your team, but you need to do it fast? Like a Lean UX approach? Will you be touching on any of those points?

17:37:31 From Yelim Kim to Everyone:

Q: how many meetings/interactions do you need to have with the stakeholders (e.g., initial planning meeting, sharing learning points)?

17:39:04 From Meredith Wong to Everyone:

Q: Can you talk about how you built and maintained the participation panel? Did any team members take on any responsibility with this?

17:39:18 From Kyle Grant to Everyone:

What tools do you give moderators to make the process as easy as possible?

17:39:23 From Autumn Hood autumn.hood@unt.edu to Everyone:

Do you help provide note-taking templates to help teams synthesize?

17:39:40 From Bobby Bishop to Everyone:

Any order effects?

17:40:11 From Yelim Kim to Everyone:

Q: Is there any template you can share with us? I think that would be really helpful!

17:41:26 From MICHAEL SELZ to Everyone:

Are you able to get your researchers to see the insights as a landscape of alternatives rather than turning it into mini-quant?

17:42:30 From Kyle Grant to Everyone:

Have you thought of working in "how might we" statements to deter the jumping to solutions attitude

17:42:34 From Jen Blatz - UXRS to Everyone:

Last call for questions

17:44:49 From Jake Rhodes to Everyone:

How do you handle artefacts, reports or videos for this kind of UR?

17:46:36 From Uti K to Everyone:

Any research conducted around rider behaviors and driver safety?

17:46:52 From Jake Rhodes to Everyone:

I LOVE resops!

17:47:20 From Melanie B. to Everyone:

what is the overall timeline actually - from intake to completion?

17:47:34 From Marc Majers to Everyone:

How often do you typically run rapid research sessions?

17:48:12 From Anthony Z - UXRS to Everyone:

Tell us what you thought of today's event:
https://forms.gle/J4oBn4GAPX748DeZ9

17:48:51 From Jaq King to Everyone:

Any chance we could get some specific insight into the mini=deck template used for those lunch & learns?

17:49:49 From Melanie B. to Everyone:

and what amount of their time does it take to run this program? roughly... is that 100% for them?

17:51:10 From Judy Summersgill to Everyone:

how much time do the non-researchers commit to spending per cycle?

17:52:38 From Aaron Esau to Everyone:

Data donated! Thanks Anthony! https://forms.gle/J4oBn4GAPX748DeZ9

17:53:04 From Linda to Everyone:

    In the same position except with product design! I'm interested in both fields too

18:36:37 From Elizabeth Chiu to Everyone:

    Tara R - in the long run, I'd say what you ENJOY is more important rather than what is easier to get into

18:36:52 From Beth Olarsch to Everyone:

    Starting as a UX generalist first might not be a bad idea. Many designers do research so you can get some experience that way.

18:37:03 From Adrienne to Everyone:

    I just remembered: women in product

18:37:35 From Jake Rhodes to Everyone:

    @tara don't discount your domain experience; as a developer you might find that your experience differentiates you from other candidates.

18:37:45 From Aaron Esau to Everyone:

    More Quality assurance instead of Experience.

18:38:26 From Shelby Baker to Everyone:

    It was great to hear from everyone. I'm going to head out. Have a good day!

18:39:39 From Jen Blatz - UXRS to Everyone:

18:45:52 From Jake Rhodes to Everyone:

    good point @Kristen's making: you need to enjoy learning from people; and translating that to a RANGE of people wo consume information differently.

18:47:15 From Kristin White to Everyone:

    Journalism/Communications would be an EXCELLENT background. I've found that all of the micro-script writing has fallen on my shoulders as well. I'm just shooting from the hip!

18:48:17 From Christina Davenport to Everyone:

    I have to drop. It was a pleasure meeting everyone!

18:48:41 From Fran C to Everyone:

Could traditional research experience and initiating informal UXD projects/methods at work with non-designers count toward years of experience typically required for a UXD or UXR role? Some entry level positions require at least 2-3 years… sorry if I missed a response to this! Internet is wonky card sort with friends - patent pending

19:02:34 From Bobby Bishop to Everyone:
    card sort your friends
19:02:58 From Caleen Alexanderson to Everyone:
    Love the card sorting idea! :-)
19:03:18 From Kathryn Butler to Everyone:
    Any suggestions for how to become a better storyteller?
19:03:37 From Joshua Hall to Everyone:
    I like that answer, Bobbi
19:03:38 From Karen Hu to Everyone:
    that's genius!
19:03:43 From jules hare to Everyone:
    I learned about diary studies from participating in one!
19:03:44 From Nicholas Chu to Everyone:
    great idea!
19:03:48 From Bobby Bishop to Everyone:
    learn about the biases that people may have 19:03:49 From Adrienne to Everyone:
    great suggestion; I do that
19:03:55 From Keri Belcher to Everyone:
    userzoom has them too!
